SPECIE PAYMENTS.

The resumption of specie payments by the Provincial Bank on the 1st of July is the accepted programme of the market, and the great anxiety of merchants and bankers to read Sr. Uriburu's note to Governor Rocha on this all important matter explains its surpassing interest.

Many are of opinion that although the Provincial Bank is in a position to convert its notes on demand, the interests of the market would be better consulted by postponing the measure for a few years, and leaving the bank and the market to a species of voluntary conversion such as at present exists in the market here, and is equally the rule in France.

Buenos Aires, however, is not Paris, and so long as we have here two rival fiscal banks, one compelled to pay gold at sight, and the other not compelled to convert at all, we shall be always subject to that feeling of uncertainty which in financial affairs generates distrust and organizes crisis.

The Nat. Bank has to pay gold over the counter for its notes, whilst the Provincial Bank only redeems its notes by virtue of exchange operations which sustain its paper money at par; by the terms of the law and in pursuance of an arrangement entered into last August between the Bank Directors and the Minister of Hacienda, the Provincial Bank must begin to convert its notes on July 1st 1883.

Neither Governor Rocha, the head of the Provincial Government, nor Mr. Uriburu, the President of the Provincial Bank, can alter the terms of the law, or deviate from the arrangement concluded with the Minister last year. It is probable, therefore, that come what may the conversion of the paper money must be carried out, and the Directors of the Provincial Bank must be well on their guard to sustain that conversion at all hazards, as affairs have wondrously changed in this market since May 1876, and any stoppage in the conversion would result in consequences to the Provincial Bank which in 1876 were easily avoided,

It is a very grave error therefore to overlook the fact that this conversion of the paper money far more affects the Provincial Bank than the market, and we are not to be surprised that the Provincial Bank restricts its discounts and gathers up its paper money as fast as it can, since it really has no other course left.

The withdrawal of the paper money by the Provincial Bank would be more severely felt but for the new emission of convertible paper money by the Nat. Bank, and the Directors of the Provincial Bank should at once telegraph to London for more gold, so as to secure it against any emergency arising from the conversion.

If the Nat. Bank were not a Government Bank, and if it had not to pay its notes in gold at sight, there might be some reason to suppose that either the mooted conversion would be postponed, or a voluntary conversion agreed on; but as matters stand in this market at present, the conversion of the paper money by the Provincial Bank must be carried out, since otherwise the National Bank would be prejudiced and entitled to apply to Congress for the same privilege as that enjoyed by the Provincial Bank. The Conversion Question, therefore, resolves itself into a purely bank question, in which the National and Provincial have clashing interests It is easy, therefore, to read the issue.

BISCACHAS.

A NEW INDUSTRY FOR THE PLATE.

Every one knows how great is the plague of the biscacha on estancias, how much grazing land they destroy and how the unwary horseman is endangered passing over their burrows. Everyone also knows that most estancieros are too prosperous, too lazy, or too careless to take effective means to exterminate these destroyers of their camp.

It would pay to exterminate these vermin without getting any profit out of the operation beyond the reclamation of land; but an interprising Scotchman has found out that there is a good business to be made from the brutes themselves.

He suffered greatly from these rodents, and set to work to remove them from the face of his camp; and observing among those killed fine large glossy skins, he gave orders to have the largest skinned, staked, poisoned and duly prepared. He shipped a few dozen off to England. They were put before the brokers, but those gentry are proverbial for not taking much trouble about a new thing unless a large commission is in view. The report upon the skins in most cases showed no profit. From certain indications, however, the Scotchman persevered and sent home three bales of picked skins; they then obtained more attention, and an intelligent dresser having got hold of some, by careful manipulation he produced a beautiful glossy fur and forthwith made some fine rugs of them. These turned out so nice that three or four rugs were made and distributed among some River Plate friends. They are found to be most beautiful and serviceable, and are as effective in the drawing-room as those made of guanaco. We hope soon to have one of those rugs to exhibit to our readers and to enrich our museum.

The dresser declares the skins to be worth about four pence each, and this leaves a good profit.

Thus the lucky estancieros have now another source of wealth opened to them, which comes out of necessary work which would have belonged to charges but for the intelligent discovery of the use of the despised biscacha.

The old song will in future read thus:

Brian O'Lynn had no breeches to wear,
He killed a biscacha and made him a pair;
With the hairy side out and the skinny side in,
"I'll go moindin' my sheep," said Brian O'Lynn.

LONDON LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent.)

May 25th.

A telegram has been received from Montevideo, stating that the rate of interest at 5 per cent. is now assured on the Uruguay loan. The Bill, authorising interest at that rate, has become law. The city article of the Standard says—"If Uruguay keeps its engagements in this respect as well as it has fulfilled those it undertook with regard to its foreign debt, bondholders will have great reason to be satisfied."

On the strength of this telegram Uruguay stock went up 2.

We do not know if by this telegram we are to understand that Mr. Cerruti's schemes have been accepted, but it is known here that he had left Montevideo and is on his way to London. Some people think that the financial schemes in connection with the Uruguay debt have a fair chance of succeeding in this market. When Mr. Cerruti arrives we shall very soon see what English names or English concern is mixed up in the affair.

The panic on the Stock-Exchange which followed the failure of Messrs Turton and Hadow has subsided, but there has been little business of any kind during the last two weeks. Opinions seem to be divided as to the difficulties to be expected in the settlement commencing on the 28th. The late action of the Bank of England, in regard to advances on securities, is held to be responsible for the recent failures, and fears are yet felt that the weak places are not all discovered. The consolation is, that if there are more defaulters they will be outsiders, and no failures are anticipated in the "House." The greatest anxiety is in respect to the discount houses who have been propping up speculators. Then we have to take into account political affairs, which, so far, have been ominously quiet in Europe and the world generally.

People have been entertained with the description of the coronation at Moscow, and here they have been engrossed in holiday making. The first stir in the pool is the bombardment of Mayunga, in Madagascar, by the French naval forces and the occupation of the port and Custom-house, in which the Hova interest is slight compared with the interests of English, American and German merchants. The Standard, which gives the news, asserts, and, I presume, on the authority of its correspondent, Dr. Cameron, that English and American money is engaged in supporting the natives of Madagascar and supplying them with arms and ammunition. This Madagascar business is the first reverberation of our brilliant campaign in Egypt, the truth concerning which is coming out by degrees. The medical reports fully confirms the worst accounts, given at the time, of the disgraceful way in which the wounded were neglected, although, as you remember, those accounts were authoritatively denied, at a moment when nothing was permitted to mar the splendour of the success.

Malet is at last superseded, and is succeeded by Major Baring. The French Canal Company are very anxious to please the English, by cutting a new canal parallel with the old one. In the meantime, the British shipowners meet together and subscribe liberally for preliminary expenses towards the survey for a new canal on English account. That business has to be settled. Then we have to hear soon from Mr. Stanley on the Congo and from the French in Tonquin. South Africa is in a muddle, and, to crown all, Mr. Plunket tells us—he is not a high authority—that the Russians have 100,000 men ready to enter Armenia. Nevertheless, and per contra, they are making great preparations at the English end of the Channel Tunnel to receive a distinguished party of visitors, and the evidence before the Committee, particularly that of Mr. Giffen, is mostly in favour of the Tunnel, as a few millions extra to be paid for military defences would be recouped over and over again by the spurt given to trade. The Channel Tunnel will, in fact, replace England in the position she lost by the cutting of the Suez Canal. Through the Tunnel she can distribute the goods she receives in deposit or in transit from distant parts of the world, and many places in Europe cheaper than they can be supplied through the ports of the Mediterranean. Whilst the Tunnel is being pierced the English and French can amuse themselves and Germany by trying their strength at sea to please the commercial communities and the rowdy and military elements in the two countries. Whilst the war is progressing, the Tunnel will be going on, and a nouvelle couche will be preparing in the political world. This is poetry, of course, but if you saw all I see in missionary, religious and provincial papers published in manufacturing towns in England, telling the Government what it is to do if the French dare to do in Madagascar what we have done in Egypt and on the West-Coast of Africa, and wherever we have two or three gathered together in the name of commerce and Christianity, yon would begin to calculate probabilities. And to return to the Stock-Exchange, this is what I think will be done there, unless Mr. Gladstone, after the next Cabinet Council, does not give some more certain sign than he has done, that he preserves his energies and has his colleagues well in hand. At this moment there are unquestionable signs of senility in the Government.

"That fellow in the World," as he tells us he is called, and who does the city business in that paper, informs us that Mr. Turton, the respected bankrupt, was a stock-broker's clerk, who very soon began to do a little jobbing on his own account, and got together £10.000 or £15,000, and then began to deal largely in English railway preference and debenture shares. He was "so insolent" city people made sure he must be rich. The World leads us to believe that Mr. Turton was of the usual vulgar type of getting-on young men. The gentlemau of the firm, Mr. Hadow, played cricket, whilst his partner attended to the business.

Todd, Finlay and Co., 48 Lime-street, East India merchants, failed to-day. Liabilities, £70,000.

The New Zealand Shipping Company's steamer British King arrived here at 8.0 a.m. She brings 112 passengers, five sacks of mails, and 7,000 carcases of sheep in the refrigerator in good condition.

ROSARIO.

(From our own Correspondent)

June 22nd

I see that your old antagonist the Nacional is down on the Standard for its observations on the Murrieta grant of land in the province of Santa Fe. If you had attentively perused your Rosario Correspondent's letter, I think myself your remarks would not have been so jubilant. I do not however altogether agree with the Nacional that these lands will be all turned into estancias for the raising of cattle; neither do I fear that Mr Murrieta or his successors will turn the gigantic territory into a second Ireland; but there is no doubt of the indiscretion and impolicy of making enormous grants of lands to individuals who cannot of course populate them. The origin of this particular grant I have mentioned in former letters. The interest and amortization of the Murrieta loan were not attended to, the Government absorbing year after year, the items placed to that account in the Budget. The day of reckoning came at last, and in some mysterious manner, in which the Public is not supposed to be interested, the lands were made over in payment, at first it was said of the whole debt and interest, for Dr Lucas Gonzalez's letter, as published, said that the province now owed nothing. Little by little it was known that the lands were alienated for the payment of the interest and compound interest overdue. The Government has never deigned to publish the details of the transaction. The exact dimensions of the cession are not even known by the public; at first it was five hundred, then six hundred and fifty, and now the Standard says one thousand square leagues. Where did you get your information from?

Now supposing that all the difficulties are smoothed over, and Mr Murrieta gets his thousand square leagues, or whatever it may. (It may be as well to remark here that the difficulties originated from the Santa Fe Government having included in the concessions a quantity of territory belonging to the National domain and the province of Santiago). Is there any chance that capital will be forthcoming to populate that far off region? They speak of a railway, and without a railway nobody would buy up there. But where is the Company? Where is the capital to build an expensive railway into the desert?

Up to the present there has been a great deal of "bombo"—a great deal of smoke and very little fire. One thing we do know, that the extravagance and misgovernment of our authorities have obliged them to alienate a huge slice of the state lands at the price of an old song; and another thing we suspect that the new owners will be in no hurry to spend more capital in a region so completely unexplored, and where it will be difficult to induce colonists to immigrate.

A correspondent of the Tribuna Nacional "M. J. O." has written a very interesting letter on the danger that threatens the town of Santa Fe. The author appears to be a thoroughly practical man. After describing the topography of Santa Fe, situated on a soft crumbly soil, with the treacherous "Salada" on one side and the huge "Parana" on the other, he says that the presents works of defence are quite inadequate to save the town from destruction in the event of an extraordinary flood, such as those we have had in different parts of the world in late years. We must not confound the destructive powers of a river like the Parana with those of a common river. The foundations of the defenses are necessarily (?) laid on the loose friable earth that forms all the peninsula on which the town is built; and if the waters of the great river should at any time overtop these defences, the whole peninsula, town and all, would be liable to be carried away. I have often thought of this possibility myself. Any one who has been round about the town of Santa Fe must have been impressed in the same manner as the writer above alluded to. The town is evidently at the mercy of an extraordinary flood. "M. J. O." suggests what in his opinion is the only means of securing the town from the fatal consequences of such a flood. This is the planting of millions of trees in every available space throughout the peninsula, which has an extension of five hundred thousand hectareas. He says that this would raise the level a metre in fifteen years, and the soil would be strongly consolidated by the agglomeration of roots, particularly if such trees as the Eucalyptus, the Carolina Poplar, and the greater part of the Coniferous family were planted.

The proposals of Messrs Portalis Brothers, of Paris, made to the National Government, are of such an astounding nature as to have quite deprived me of breath for five minutes, and necessitated a goblet of brandy and water to resuscitate me. The famous Rothschild project of a million of immigrants can't hold a candle to it. Let us see, 25 millions on the part of the Company and 5 millions on the part of the Government in land. With this it is proposed to build a railway from Bahia Blanca to the Pacific by the Bariloche Pass, and finish all the Northern lines. The building of a fleet of steamers of at least 3000 tons each. The construction of docks, moles, wharves and deposits at Bahia Blanca, and the establishment of a thousand or so of colonies. On reading this my first impression was that all these works would require a capital of fifty millions at least, and that Messrs Portalis must inevitably come to grief; but reading on I find they have managed to surrouud themselves with a few guarantees. First the guarantee of 6 per cent on the capital; then the Government is to join with five millions worth of land calculated at a price of two national dollars the hectarea. The privilege also of purchasing 1500 square leagues from the National Government. Then the Government pays ten dollars for the introduction of each immigrant. The Company is to be free from all taxes; they are to be allowed to establish a Bank of Emision, and, "mirable dictu," a Lottery! This will be a nice nut for the Congress to crack. I see the Company propose that all the railways shall be a broad guage. That would mean the reguaging of the Tucuman line.

In the Vandycke, a magnificent bull, from the Earl of Zetland herd, comes out for Mr William Barnett. I have seen the pedigree, and it contains more "f d s" than I would like to count. His ancestry is easily traced back to Pharaoh's fat Kine, and probably can be to one of the Patriarch Abraham's prime bulls. Joking apart he is said to be the purest stock ever brought to Rosario.

CHILE AND PERU.

We find in an American paper the following very interesting correspondence from Lima:—

Although accustomed to the winters of St. Petersburg, Mr. de Lavalle, the agent of the Chilian Government to General Iglesias, does not seem inclined to venture his precious person near the head-quarters of the Regenerator at Cajamarca. Mr. Trescot, by no means of a figure modelled to witch the world with noble horsemanship, bestrode a mule and paid Montero a visit at Huaraz, over the hills and far away, yet this Russian gentleman quietly remains in Lima and leaves his commission unfulfilled. The fact is, that until Caceres with his army is driven from the positions occupied at Canta, too close to Lima to be agreeable to the Chilians, it is useless endeavouring to help Iglesias, whose success and elevation to power depend exclusively on the ability of the Chilian commanders to assist him, and that they cannot do unless their undivided attention be given to that end. We are assured that the continued misfortune of these nations—for Chile is beginning to very sensibly feel the effects of the war—is due in a measure to the personal unpopularity of President Garcia Calderon with President Santa Maria and the members of his Cabinet; or, in other words, that personal feelings are allowed to influence matters of such grave import. This assertion has been repeatedly made, and is in all probability correct, for we know that in the many conferences on the subject of peace held at Santiago Mr. Calderon and the Minister of Foreign Affairs always commuicated their views through a third party. Don José Maria Quimper, a very distinguished Peruvian sharing exile with Calderon, was more fortunate than his chief, being recently deputed to re-open the peace-discussions, and at the very point of success met with disappointment from that same implacable covetousness of Chile that always crops out at the last moment.

Then President Santa Maria called Mr. Lavalle and in exchange for his liberty confided to him the errand of seeking Iglesias and coming to terms on the Chilian basis and to power on ths points of the Chilian bayonets. No one in Lima thinks that this plan can succeed. Iglesias is too inherently weak; the animosity of the whole Republic against him is bitter, and treason, as it has been styled by the Constitutional Government, when the invaders still have their flag flying over Lima, is abhorrent to all. It is even stated, and believed, that General Lynch is opposed to this setting up of a Russian puppet, seeing clearly that it is but a continuance of the present condition of affairs under another designation, but is overruled by the political party at Santiago.

Apropos of the scarcity of men in Chile for recruiting purposes, it is only a few weeks ago that 400 Chilian peones, or laborers, were contracted for to aid in building some public works in Argentine territory, just over the frontier. The men packed up their scenty impediments and alluated by the offer of good wages, marched off towards their destination, but on the border line they were peremptorily stopped by the Chilian police and sent back to their homes. Not a man can be spared. Even at the guano loading depositsthe Chilian laborers are being relieved by Chinese and brought back to this thinly settled country.

We have not yet had time to learn anything respecting the National Congress at Arequipa convoked for the 15th inst. It is not probable—rather quite out of the question—that this Legislature should be composed of representative men from all sections of the republic. The difficulties of travel and the presence of the Chilians along the coast will prevent many from taking part in the debates. These will mainly turn on the subject of peace; but as Garcia Calderon cannot submit any propositions agreed upon with Chile it is hard to conjecture what result may be attained. A great deal of wire-pulling and lobbying will be indulged in, however, with a view to the next Presidency, for one of the duties of the Congress will be to fix a time for the election of the Chief Magistrate, and, unfortunately for the [illegible] Peru, there are several of her sons ambitious enough to aspire to power. Admiral Montero, it is known, would be pleased if he were nominated to fill the chair of state, but he would not be successful at the polls.

There are two candidates of whom much is said—Don Mariano Alvarez, a distinguished jurisconsult and pronounced by Mr Trescot, if that be authority, to be the ablest man in Peru, and Don Jose Maria Quimper, a former Attorney General. Both of these gentlemen are in Chile enjoying or tolerating enforced hospitality, but their admirers and supporters are numerous. It is also rumoured that Mr Calderon would prefer the election of Dr. Francisco Rosas to the Presidency. Rosas is now in Peru in the character of Peruvian Plenipotentiary. Caceras might figure on his ticket as Vice-President, and this nomination would be popular. No active operations have been made by the opposing armies in the south. The Chilians are quiet at Tacna and Arica, the Peruvians recruiting and drilling at Arequipa and Moquegua, and those mythical Bolivians still asleep somewhere near the frontier.

A change is anticipated in the Chilian Cabinet, owing, it is said, to a serious divergence of opinion regarding the recent and summary dismissal of the Papal Delegate, because his Holiness did not see proper to name a political friend of the Government to the vacant Archiepiscopal see of Santiago. Messrs Juan E. Vergara, Castellon and Aldunate, Ministers of Justice, War and Foreign Affairs, are about to resign their portfolios, and their successors are not as yet indicated. Mr Aldunate, it is understood, is gazetted for the Spanish mission, to sign a peace with the mother country.

An old and interesting Lima landmark has disappeared. On the morning of the 16th the theatre was completely destroyed by fire. This ancient building, constructed in 1750 by order of the Viceroy Count of Superunda, was the vete-an of its class in South America and probably in the other Americas too. No foreigner who has ever visited Lima can forget the singular distribution of the edifice—the closet-like boxes or palcos running around the building and the celebrated 'ocullos,' or concealed boxes, on a level with the pit, where the beautiful demimonde of the capital held high carnival. On the boards of this theatre danced in 1790 the fair and faulty Perichola, a particular friend of the Viceroy Amat, whose adventures are harmoniously related in Offenbach's score. The fire occurred after a performance, and, with the exception of a chorus singer who perished in the flames, no casualities of a serious nature occurred. It was municipal property.

We were somewhat surprised at the wholesale denunciation of Mr. Partridge, the United States Minister here, at the hands of Congress and the Department of State, as the mild measure insinuated by that gentleman, and which has called down such wrath upon his head, was never regarded here as a matter likely to be productive of important results. And as the United States have left Peru to her fate for too long a time, it seems strange that the dog in the manger policy should still prevail.

Mr. Partridge goes home by this steamer, leaving behind him the pleasant memory of a refined and cultivated gentleman, but rather fitted for the drawing-room than the Cabinet of a diplomat. He has not thought proper during his eight months' residence in Peru to present his credentials to the Constitutional Government, to which he was especially accredited.

THE FESTIVITIES AT MOSCOW.

PROCLAMATION OF THE CORONATION.

Moscow, May 24th.

The Emperor and Empress left yesterday evening for the Sans Souci Palace, a residence which formerly belonged to the Princess Orloff. There is a lovely park, surrounded by a white wall, against which, as I drove round, the mounted Cossack vedettes, with their little wiry horses, and their guns slung behind them, as they sat motionless, whip in hand, stood out with picturesque effect. This residence is about half way between Moscow and the Sparrow hills, from which there is a marvellous view of the city, and the undulating Moskwa. For three days their Imperial Majesties will remain there, in devout preparation for the solemn ceremony of Sunday next.

At nine o'clock this morning the striking proclamation of the Coronation came off on the Place of the Senate in the Kremlin. Nothing could be more Royal in its details, or more interesting as a pageant. The regiments of the Chevalier Guards on the right, and the Horse Guards on the left, were drawn up in line across the Palace yard, their eagle-crowned helmets flashing in the brilliant sun, and their pennons waving in the air. The white horses, twelve in number, led by two grooms of the Palace, caparisoned with housings of gold tissue embroidered with the black eagle, the Imperial initials, and the order of St. Andrew, look so superb, shaking their heads on which three white ostrich plumes are dancing, that one looks round for the Knights in Armour, who surely must be coming to the tournament.

The Kings-at-Arms now ride up, gorgeous in their golden tabards. Their costume is perfect—large Louis XIV. hats of crimson and gold, with immense plumes of black and white, and yellow tabards of gold tissue, on which the black eagle stands out in relief, embroidered gauntlets, slashed breeches, and buff boots. They sit holding their gold images on white chargers, decked with saddle cloths, breast-plates, and tasselled harness of black, white, and gold.

On forming up for the proclamation the General-in-Chief, Prince Svatopol Mirsky, takes the centre with his staff, among whom I notice Admiral Popoff, of the Popoffski ironclads. On either side are a Grand Master of the Ceremonies, a Herald, two Masters of the Ceremonies, and the bands and trumpeters of the Life Guard Regiments. In front are the two Secretaries of the Senate, mounted, who, after a flourish, proceed to read the proclamation, as follows:—

"Our most august, high and mighty Sovereign the Emperor Alexander Alexandrovitch, having ascended the hereditary throne of the Empire of All the Russias, the Kingdom of Poland, and the Grand Duchy of Finland, which are inseparable from it, graciously ordains, after the example of his predecessors and glorious ancestors, that the holy ceremony of the coronation and consecration of his Imperial Majesty, in which his Majesty decrees that his august spouse the Empress Maria Feodorovna shall participate, will take place, with the Almighty's permission, on Sunday 15th (27) May. By their present proclamation this solemn act is announced to all faithful subjects of his Majesty, in order that on that auspicious day they may raise towards the King of Kings their most fervent prayers, and implore the Almighty to pour out His grace and blessing on the reign of his Majesty, for the maintenance of peace and tranquility, to the great glory of His holy name, and the unalterable prosperity of the empire."

The proclamation having been read, the bands burst out with the grand National Anthem, "God save the Emperor," and copies of the proclamation, printed in colours on satin paper, were hurled among the crowd. Then came a scene of excitement. Every one present wanted a copy, and the peasants had an idea that the possession of one would give them the right to some land, and perhaps a fortune. Thus the struggle was very violent; so much so that some police agents had to fly to the sauctuaries for protection, closely followed by the anxious mob.

The Herald's staff and troops now filed off to another station. They will separate before the Pojarski statue into two bodies, and during to-day, tomorrow, and Saturday proclaim in every quarter of Moscow and its suburbs the grand event.

In connection with the coronation festivities two great popular festivals are projected here, one on the day of the coronation and the other on the date fixed for the return of their Majesties to the capital. Seventeen bands of music and 3 choirs will perform in the public squares. Free representations will be given in two theatres, and a circus will be erected on the Field of Mars. There will also be national dances and other popular amusements. Forty-five public edifices will be handsomely decorated.

IRELAND.

Dublin, May 24th.

Archbishop Croke left Kingstown this morning and proceeded via Dublin to Thurles, leaving Kingsbridge Station by the one o'clock train. Amongst those who witnessed his departure were Mr. Sexton, M. P., Dr. Kenny, Mr. J. B. Cox, Mr. Joseph McCarroll, chairman of the Wicklow Town Commissioners, and a deputation from that body, who presented an address.

His Grace was welcomed at Sallins, Newbridge, Kildare, and Monasterevan, by the clergy and leading laymen of the district. Addresses were presented and suitable replies given. On arrival at Thurles the Archbishop was received by a large crowd not only of the people of Thurles and district, but also from Templemore, Tipperary, Cashel, Mullinahone, and other places. An address was presented to him on the platform. The address was from "the people of Thurles and the surrounding districts to his Grace the Most Rev. Dr. Croke, Archbishop of Cashel."

His grace merely said a few words acknowledging the address, but later in the evening he gave the following reply:—My dear friends, the first duty I have to discharge to-day, and it is an eminently pleasing one, is to thank God, as I heartily and reverently do, for having watched over me during my recent travels, and brought me back safe to my own people. (Cheers). My second duty is to make my cordial acknowledgments to you, dear friends, for the warm and indeed enthusiastic welcome home that you have given me on my return to the cathedral town of this ancient metropolitan see. I have no desire to lay before you all the incidents of my recent journey, nor to speak of the anxieties that attended on every inch almost of my way. Suffice it to say that I and my travelling companion, the Ven. Archdeacon Kinnane, reached Rome on Wednesday, the eve of Ascension Day, and on that evening I waited on the Cardinal Prefect of the Propaganda to receive his instructions. My interview with him, which lasted an hour and a half, was in every sense of the word, so far as I was concerned, straightforward and satisfactory; and so far as his Eminence was concerned, I am bound to say, as I have already repeatedly said elsewhere, that he listened to my statements as regards Irish affairs with the utmost attention, and gave them, no doubt, afterwards all due consideration. I had a second and leave-taking interview with him on the Monday after Ascension Day. After a week's delay in Rome I had audience with the Pope, and after some preliminary observations he spoke of the threatening condition of things in Europe generally, especially in France and elsewhere, and was greatly afraid that even in Ireland, which had been at all times a source of much consolation to him, a spirit of lawlessness had seized upon the people owing, no doubt, to the spread of secret societies amongst us and other disturbing influences. I then ventured on explanations as regards this country, showing that we had always condemned secret societies and crime; that no secret societies existed in this district; that no crimes of any special magnitude had been committed here; and that religion was never more flourishing amongst us. In a word, the topics that I had already treated of at the Propaganda were touched upon, though more briefly; and his Holiness, who heard that I was leaving next day, gave me and my travelling companion his blessing and good wishes. This is a sufficient and truthful account of what occurred; and now, my dear people, I have only one request to make to you, and that is, never to utter a disrespectful word of the Holy See. The Pope is a sincere friend of Ireland. He actually assured me that he was as good an Irishman as I am myself, and I have really no doubt about the matter. He wishes well to his Irish children, but all he blames them for is the commission of crime and vicious associations, both of which I and you have always, and now do, most emphatically condemn and denounce. For the rest it is needless for me to say that any mandate issuing from the Holy See will ever be received with filial reverence and obedience by the bishops and priests of Ireland, and by none of them more so than by myself. I shall say no more. I wish you every happiness, and pray you to accept the Pope's blessing and my own. The people then dispersed, but the bands continued to play through the streets for some time.

The Mail of this evening says, in reference to the letters of Messrs. Healy and Davitt, written from Richmond Prison:—"We are authorised by one of the visiting justices to state that copies of two letters were surreptitiously taken out of the prison by the wife of Mr. Healy and the sister of Mr. Davitt, and that Messrs. Healy and Davitt submitted letters to the Governor (Mr. Philpotts) as if they were the originals, but he refused to allow them out of the prison without first consulting the authorities at the Castle. This he did, and the Lord Lieutenant approved of their publication in the Press, but before they were sent to the Press by the Governor the copies had been taken out, as it was found, surreptitiously, and the Governor therefore, punished the prisoners by taking certain indulgences from them. Yesterday a letter was read from the Lord-Lieutenant to the visiting justices approving of the restrictions imposed by the Governor, but remitting their further operation on account of the previous good conduct of the prisoners.

Last night two large, square, black-coloured boxes, iron bound, were landed at Cork from the Clyde Company's steamer Fastnet. The boxes, which are from America, and consigned to a Manchester firm, were landed at Dingle, and brought thence to Cork in the Fastnet. On the arrival of the steamer the police, who evidently were acting on private information, had the boxes detained. They have not yet been opened, but are lying on the quay guarded by detectives and policemen, who are probably awaiting further instructions as to the disposal of the suspicious-looking boxes.

LANDING OF THE FRENCH IN MADAGASCAR.

Paris, May 25th.

The Cabinet Council held a long sitting to-day at M. Ferry's. The Marine Minister formally communicated to his colleagues the despatches received by him from Madagascar, the gist of which they must have heard last night at the reception of M. Cochery and M. Ferry. They were to the effect that Admiral Pierre, on learning of the rupture between the French Government and the Hovas Envoys, had demolished the Hovas posts on the Sakalava territory. He executed his bellicose mission, at the head of the naval division of the Indian Ocean. Moreover, he subsequently captured the Custom House of Majunga, at the mouth of the river leading to Tananarivo, and gave chase to the garrison. It was hoped that this feat of cutting off communications with the Hovas capital and the sea would force the Queen to yield to the terms Admiral Pierre has been instructed to demand.

So far as the evening journals express it, Republican opinion seems to be with the Ministry. Satisfaction is expressed at the, so far as the French sailors and marines were concerned, bloodless nature of the victory over the Hovas. Admiral Pierre is greatly commended for having been as prudent as he was energetic. At the Ministerial soirées which I attended yesterday evening there was not much conversation about Madagascar, but I heard a good deal said by some of the foremost political men of the day about the political attitude of England. We are reproached with endeavouring to stand in the way of French enterprise in the East and in Africa, although France did not want, it was alleged, to tread anywhere on our heels.

Intelligence received here by the Ministry of Marine from Madagascar, dated Zanzibar, the 23rd inst., announces that that the French squadron, commanded by Admiral Pierre, has carried the military posts established by the Hova Government on the Sakalava territory in defiance of French rights. The telegram adds that Admiral Pierre, after driving out the Hova garrison at Majunga, took possession of the Custom House there, thus securing access to the road and water way leading to Tapanarivo.

The Temps of this evening, commenting upon the above news, points out that the seizure of the Custom House will guarantee the payment of the sums due to France from the Hova Government, and adds that Admiral Pierre is entrusted with the task not only of causing the treaty rights of France to be respected, but also to ensure to French subjects as regards the question of property equal rights with those which the subjects of other nations will enjoy under the treaties recently concluded with the Malagasy Envoys by England, the United States and Germany in particular.

EDITOR'S TABLE

The French mail steamer Niger sails this afternoon. Mails close at noon. Our knuckles are sore from all the raps on them we received yesterday for saying that this steamer was to sail in the afternoon. The weather was so very slippery that it was no wonder that our pen slipped. The damp weather made our foolscap so greasy that our pen stumbled.

We beg to inform our lady subscriber who has enquired so frequently for the name and address of the Society F. T. P. O. C. T. Animals, that Dr. Webster, the well known dentist, is the Treasurer, and his local habitation is No. 134 Florida. He is at present in the camp, but his partner, Dr. Kimball acts for him.

The service at the Scotch Church this morning is for children. No Sunday School.

There was a stiff breeze in the Municipality on Friday night, and something like a most unwarrantable impeachment of the Lord Mayor and the former Municipality. Mr. Alvear is not the man to allow this absurd charge to pass unnoticed, and we would prefer not being in the shoes of those who have so rashly made it.

The Royal Mail steamer Minho arrived at Montevideo on Friday night, so we suppose her mails will be delivered to-day.

The awful catastrophe in the Sunderland Theatre has now been categorically contradicted by a little up-river colleague—the Norte of San Nicolas. Strange to say, its authority is the Havas Agency, from which all the city papers received the news. Why not the contradiction also? The thing is so muddled that we cannot make out whether there was a fire or only a rumour of a fire. In any case it is comfort to know that the results were not so appalling as first cablegraphed.

Alsina Bridge, for a long time past, has had almost as bad a reputation as the famous Bloody Bridge in Dublin had fifty years ago. On Friday night there was another highway robbery at this bridge, a South Plaza "tropero" who was riding home at one a.m. being stopped and rifled of $18.000 m/% by three masked and mounted highwaymen, who held a loaded blunderbuss to his gizzard rib and gave him the time-honored choice of his money or his life. He chose the latter.

Telegrams from Rosario say that Miss Iriondo, who is to be married to-day to Dn. B. Irigoyen, son of the Minister of the Interior, has received wedding presents to the value of £10,000 stg! What do you think of that ladies fair—married, unmarried, and to be married? How is it that the bridgroom never gets anything worth mentioning on these interesting occasions? We take this opportunity of wishing the happy and distinguished couple long life and felicity.

A Gainza subscriber wants an explanation of the following phenomenon which occurred some months ago, just before the long summer drought came to an end. While standing at his estancia door one evening, with several gentlemen they suddenly saw the camp, about a league and a-half off, take fire, and then, in quick succession, jets of smoke rose in a score of places on all sides, running along for some distance, and then disappearing as quickly as they had risen. Men were at once sent off at full gallop to capture the incendiaries, who were supposed to be "boleadores," but they could see no one about in any direction, and they would certainly have seen any persons who might have been around, as the camp is as flat as a pancake for eight leagues on all sides. Our friend wants to know if any fellow-estanciero has experience of a similar case of spontaneous combustion? The air was heavily charged with electricity at the time, and a thunderstorm broke some hours after.

While an industrious "changador" was carrying a heavy 'bulto' of brittle wares on Friday he spied a $5000 note on the ground at a corner of a street. His eyes glistened; but he was on the horns of a dilemma; the load was too heavy to allow him to stoop with it on his back, and if he laid it down, he might smash it to atoms. He put his foot on the note, to hide it, hoping that some friend of his own kind might pass by and help him. While he was cogitating, the 'blue' at the corner, who had seen the whole performance, accosted him. The 'honest' 'changador' proposed "halves," but the still more honest policeman would not hear of it, and marched the finder and the found note to his Comissary, who now holds the note for its lawful owner.

The inhabitants of Mendoza have bought a superb album in this city for the President of the Exhibition there, Don Carlos Lagomaggiore, for his patriotic exertions in getting up the very successful Show.

Our Rosario Letter, in another column, gives all the news from that quarter. All we can see in the papers is that they want the tramway company to carry the postmen free, and the Municipality to put down cock-fighting, and not to start bull-fighting. They also say that the price of firewood is rising rapidly. This is important for those who want it.

The 78th Concert of the German Singing Academy will come off tomorrow night. It will be a grand treat. With the exception of the Valpurgis Night, by Mendelssohn, all the pieces in the programme are new and suited to the B. Airean public. Miss Blomberg's soprano solo by Savio will be worth hearing, as she has a fine voice and excellent method. Professor Melani will play Bruch's famous violin concerto, a world renowned piece. A crowded house may be expected, so go early, if you want a good seat.

The Lord Mayor has asked the Corporation to vote a trifle of cash for the July Fêtes, as all the money put down in the "Presupuesto" for firework expenses was spent on the May fêtes.

The famous steamer Stirling Castle won the first cargo Tea Race from China this year. She made the run from China to the Nore in 81 days, six days less than the shortest run on record before. This is the steamer that will be put on the River Plate Italian line next September, to make the run from Genoa, and vice-versa, in fifteen days. The other companies will require to increase their coal bills, if

ON 'CHANGE.

June 23rd, 1883

Patacon	25.00
Cedulas A	100½
Cedulas E	82½
National Bank Shares	103⅜

The decline in Cedulas is becoming more pronounced; all the firmness of yesterday's operations gave way this morning, and Series E continues to droop. A glance at the ring shews the number of sellers of the stock and the paucity of strong buyers. The growing tightness of the money market occasioned by the restriction of discounts by all private banks, the increasing issue of the stock, and the elements at the back of the bears, are driving the stock to 80. Unless some strong purchasers join the bulls, the stock will continue its downward course.
Operations at the ring continue important; about 400,000 Cedulas were sold during official hours. A small sale of Series A was effected for cash at 100½, but there are very few sellers under 100½. Thirty four thousand Series E changed hands for cash at 82⅜ and 82½; 265,000 were sold for the end of the month; rates opened at 82½, but the stock began to collapse immediately and prices dropped to 82½-⅜-½ and closed at 82⅜. Operations for the end of next month opened at 82½ and closed at 82½; 85,000 were sold for the latter date. The position of the market is exceedingly weak, and the stock continues to be freely thrown into the ring. A party to-day gave order to sell $126,000 and could only get rid of 20,000. The bulls put their hopes in the ingress of a stronger element to uphold the price of the stock.
The share market is also passing through a critical situation, and weakness stamps the stock as well as Cedulas. Everything in the Bolsa is beginning to assume a very bearish appearance, and shares participate in the feeling, although there are very few sellers of the stock at the current rates of the market. Operations this morning during official hours amounted to 550 shares only, a figure that eloquently shews the dullness of operations at the ring. One hundred shares were sold for July at 104; the remainder were sold for the end of the month; rates opened at 103½, fell gradually and closed at 103½.
Money is no longer offered so freely on securities; 9 o/o per annum with Series E at 70 o/o were the conditions asked to-day. The demands of capitalists are moving with the tightness of the market.
Eighty thousand patacons gold were sold to-day for the end of the year at 25.10. Gold is freely offered in the market for cash, but there are few buyers.
With the exception of the Provincial Bank, which gave 6 millions, none of the banks discounted yesterday.
The market watches with keen interest the news that leaks out of the secret sessions of the Deputies of Congress. There is a species of apprehension in the market that there is much opposition in the debates. It is rumored that there is some definite motion made to declare the bonds held by both the National and Provincial Banks foreign loans. This news has staggered the market and points to the powerful influences at work in Congress. These reports have given rise to expectations of a kind of compromise between the positions of both banks, and it is thought that the upshot of the whole affair will be a parity of relations and standing between both establishments. Thus, it appears that the National Bank Bill and the Conversion Bill, through a political concatenation of events have been closely linked together. As these manœuvres are kept under reserve, it is thought that there is much behind the scenes.
Telegrams from Montevideo announce that there is such a gale blowing that communication with the Poitou, just arrived, is impossible. The weather here is bleak enough and the freshets are stormy.
The Ville de Montevideo left Rosario to-day with 13,000 bags of cereals; the Linida left also with over 1,000 tons of wheat.
After the close of official hours Mr Salas began to sell off by auction two pagarés of Mr P. Pita, by order of the judge. The two pagarés amounted to 17,000 $, and were bought up by Mr A. Arriola, the popular broker, for 1,650 $. Mr Arriola had orders to bid as high as 11,000 $. There was some hitch as the market refused to note the sale on the board. It is the first time that pagarés have been thus sold at the ring.
It is rumoured in the market that the Camara de Comercio will call a meeting of the members on Monday to discuss a petition to be sent to the National Government on the Conversion.
Advices from Entre Rios are unfavorable and, due it is supposed to the frequent rains, a new disease in sheep is reported which on one estancia in Gualeguaychu, that of Sr. Fernandez, carried off 200 sheep in a single night. It is to be hoped that the local authorities will take some steps in the matter, and as there is now in Entre Rios a very distinguished London Vet, we think the Entre Riano estancieros and farmers should invitehim to report on this new disease. Happily for the farmers the flocks in this country are usually very healthy, but the increase of sheep in the R. Plate is so great that we must be prepared for diseases which spite of all our science come as a corrective or equalizing power of nature.
The Legislature of Entre Rios has just passed two laws authorizing the formation of agricultural colonies, which is a good sign for that Province. These colonies will enjoy many local privileges, and we doubt not will prove signally successful.
Advices from the distant Province of Salta report increased progress in the sugar business. The Government is selling the Quinta Agronomica and applying the proceeds towards the conclusion of the Penitentiary works. Many new mines, they say, have been discovered, and the Government House is filled with solicitudes; nevertheless, we never see any gold or silver from Salta, and we note that to the present those who have embarked in the mining business have not made much money.
In the Province of San Luis there is a very great movement in lands, chiefly owing to the public expectations of the Transandine and Bahia Blanca Railways. Several parties in Buenos Aires are buying up large tracts of land at comparatively cheap rates. Captain Moyano, the great explorer, is about to take a large number of colonists, natives of San Luis, to form a settlement at Santa Cruz on the same plan as the Welsh colonists at Chupat. It may succeed, but we must always make allowance for the difference between a hardy brawny Welshman and a "Puntano".
The rivers in the North, South and West have all burst their banks. The Salado can only be crossed in a boat. Even the Arrecifes river has flooded the country, from Lobos to Saladillo it is all water.
The sales at the ring during official hours were:—
Cedulas—
For cash A 1,000 at 100½
For cash E 34,000 at 82⅜-½
For June 30th E 265,000 at 82½-⅜-½-⅜
For July 31st E 85,000 at 82½-⅜-½-⅜
Sales, 285,000
National Bank Shares—
For June 30th 450 at 103⅛-¼-⅜
For July 31st 100 at 104
Sales, 550
Mr. John Samson, of the firm of Lochore & Samson, was welcomed on 'Change on his return from Bahia Blanca; he reports the place going ahead fast, no houses to be had; the passengers land at the mole which is a great convenience, and the whistle of the locomotive is now heard in the town; building is very expensive, bricks scarce and can't be made quick enough to meet the demand. The steamer Watergeus entered the Boca this morning and was somewhat delayed landing her passengers, owing to the visit not coming off. It has rained a good deal down about Bahia Blanca, but not so heavily as here.
There was much said on 'Change to-day about last night's Municipal session, and the most unjust charges made by a member of the Board against Mr. Alvear, who is deservedly a public favorite. It was generally said that Mr. Alvear will publish a manifest explaining all the disbursements made during his Lord Mayorship. The opinion on 'Change is that there is a certain clique in the new Municipality pledged to get Mr. Alvear out of his post, which the tax-payers and public hope will not succeed, as they are of accord that he is the best and most economical Lord Mayor Buenos Aires ever had.
It is announced that the Provincial Bank is about to open a branch in the town of Patagones. It is certainly about time, as the place has a large trade and no means of transacting it, people keep their money in their boxes, stockings, &c. About two months ago we waited on Sr. Uriburu with Don José Atkins on this subject, and we are happy to see that the interview is likely to result in something.
Prince Talleyrand was welcomed on 'Change to-day.
3,000 Entre Rios dry hides are reported sold at 50 rls.
Also 5,000 salted horse hides from Gualeguay at 24 rls; weight 36 lbs, put on board in this port.
Fair amount of Government Proveeduria Bills have been done at 8 o/o.
Captain Henry Reed, of the swift sailing barque H. Warner, was welcomed to-day; his fine barque generally makes the trip out from Portland under 45 days.
A leading hide broker counted 6 carts stuck in the mud on a single street

Venta Particular.

Llamamos la atencion de los capitalistas del pais, sobre la gran propiedad utilizada para el dique de la Colonia, consta de treinta mil varas cuadradas sobre el mismo puerto de la Colonia con estension hasta la lengua del agua y de ahi hasta el canal como queda marcado en el plano, siendo la parte la mas profunda del puerto de la Colonia, pues basta saber que la fregata inglesa de guerra "Volage" ha estado anclado a una distancia de una cuadra y media de la costa.

Esta concesion fue hecha por el Gobierno Oriental a perpetuidad consta de una casa habitacion con oficinas y dos barracas de material, cada una de ellas tiene capacidad para tres mil fardos de lana.

El campo que ofrecemos en venta es de superior calidad, por toda recomendacion solo diremos, sino que aqui tuvieron sus tolderias las tribus de Pincen, pues es sabido que los indios no se establecen sino en los campos superiores.

Hay en estos terrenos buenos Montes de maderas duras, que es una gran ventaja para la formacion de poblaciones, corrales etc. y estan cruzados por dos caminos.

El ferro carril proyectado de Bahia Blanca a Mercedes cruzara estos campos por un costado. La venta se hara sin base.

A los Senores Hacendados.

Les participamos que el Jueves 20 de Setiembre, queda fijado para el remate de este año de los carneros Negrete Argentino procedentes de la cabaña "El Rosario" de los Srs. Francisco Chas e hijos.

Les recordamos que la raza nueva Negrete Argentino ha sido obtenida mediante una observacion concienzuda de treinta años sobre lo que conviene mas al pais por el tamaño, por la robustez y por la lana cuya abundancia largo y finura no dejan nada que desear encontrando nuestras palabras un mejor comprobacion en los productos de la cabaña El Rosario, vendidos o exhibidos hasta la fecha.

Los Sres Chas procurando que los compradores ahorren gastos de cuidado etc. han fijado el espresado remate a fin de que los animales puedan ser empleados inmediatamente de adquiridos (20 Octubre). Desde luego garantimos todos nuestros que venderemos son sobresalientes, como tambien que de igual modo que en los años anteriores, sera el unico remate en los que los Chas daran en el presente año.

Estos campos estan situados en la IV Seccion de tierras Nacionales—zona que corriendo hacia el Oeste entre los fuertes Argentino y Puan, y a poco mas de 20 leaguas de Bahia Blanca, es reputada como de los mejores campos del Sud.

Los campos son de pastos abundantes, mezclados y tiernos, y el agua se encuentra con facilidad en todas partes, muchos de los lotes teniendo aguadas permanentes de riquisima agua.

Los informes sobre la calidad de este magnifico campo se encuentran en el Departamento de Ingenieros Nacionales y copias de ellas estan a la disposicion de los interesados en nuestra casa.

La situacion de estos campos no puede ser mejor; es una seccion que va a ser cruzada por varias lineas de ferro carriles cuyas concesiones deben ser despachadas por el Congreso en este año y sus arranques son el gran puerto de Bahia Blanca, llave principal de la inmensa campaña Sud, destinado a ser la California de la America del Sud.

El gran Ferro Carril del Sud, cuyos terraplenes llegan ya a Bahia Blanca que quedara abierta al trafico dentro de 4 a 5 meses, pasando a pocas leguas la venden dejando los campos que ofrecemos en venta a un dia de distancia y puede facilmente preverse el impulso que dara a ellos asegurandoles un brillante e inmediato porvenir.

La venta sera liberal, sin base de ningun genero y condiciones ventajosas para el pago. Una tercera parte al contado y el resto a uno, dos, y tres años de plazo con interes del 7 o|o anual y pagares hipotecarios.
